Design "A" for freestanding fires

Guard is hinged to allow panels to be placed at any angle. Corner clamps only fit 90 or 135 degree corners however.

For panel sizes over 1000mm, we recommend corner clamps to stabilise the guard.

Guard should be situated around hearth not up on it.

Custom panels available up to 1800mm (these do not need corner clamps)

We manufacture two designs of childproof fireguard - one suitable for freestanding hearth fires and one suitable for open or gas fires.

- Sturdy and Safe
- Reasonably Priced
- Securely attached to the wall at four points
- Allow easy access to the fire, with clips that are too difficult for a small child to undo
- Take only minutes to install, with all fittings supplied
- Fold flat for storage
- Coloured black
- We freight nationwide

The Childproof Fireguard has been designed with safety and convenience in mind. Consideration has been given to the height, the grid size, and the stability; all to ensure your little ones are given the protection they deserve.
